EXPERIENCE MARINE LIFE

The waters in South Malé Atoll teem with life, where reef sharks patrol the channels, manta rays sweep gracefully through cleaning stations, and turtles drift across vibrant coral gardens. Whale sharks, stingrays, eels, and dazzling schools of tropical reef fish add to the spectacle, turning every dive into a vivid encounter with the Maldives' underwater world.

PADI SCUBA CERTIFICATION

We take the time to understand the natural anxieties of beginners and guide you patiently with clear, thorough teaching methods. You can begin your journey with the Open Water certification (Level 1) or advance your skills with the Advanced Open Water certification (Level 2).

GUEST INFORMATION & GUIDELINES

IMPORTANT TO READ

- While we take every measure to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience, ROA cannot accept responsibility for incidents such as illness, injury, accidents, delays, loss, or additional expenses that may arise during the trip.
- Guest safety is our highest priority. Dive plans may be adjusted or cancelled if conditions require, with final decisions made by our trusted partner dive shop in Ukulhas.
- Weather and unforeseen circumstances may occasionally lead to dive cancellations without prior notice. In such cases, we will do our best to reschedule for the next available day. If rescheduling is not possible, refunds will unfortunately not be offered.
- Marine life is wonderfully unpredictable. While encounters are often magical, we cannot guarantee sightings of specific species.
- Should government regulations result in changes to fuel costs, taxes, or fees, trip prices may be adjusted accordingly.
- Guests are kindly asked to take care of any equipment rented or borrowed from dive centres. In the event of damage or loss, compensation will need to be settled directly with the dive centre.
- We encourage all guests to arrange suitable travel insurance for their trip. Please note that room sharing cannot be guaranteed on the basis of gender.
- In rare cases where travellers face challenges with visas, flight bookings, or immigration clearance, ROA cannot be held responsible and refunds will not be available.
- To help us secure speedboat transfers, guests should share their international flight details (arrival and departure from Malé) with us in good time. Delays in providing this information may affect our ability to book tickets.
- Guests are responsible for arriving in Malé with enough time to clear immigration, collect luggage, and reach the speedboat jetty for onward transfer.
- Each traveller should ensure they are medically fit to dive, consulting a physician if needed.
- All travellers will be asked to complete a standard Medical Form and, if required, provide a doctor's clearance before their first dive.
- Divers whose skills are found to be below standard during the check dive may be asked to complete a refresher course. We recommend that anyone who has not dived in over six months complete a refresher in India beforehand to make the most of their trip days.
- ROA may share photos, videos, and guest testimonials from the trip on its website and social media platforms to celebrate the experience.
